Spyder Yardley-Jones

Mapping Out Your Imagination – On a large piece of paper you'll draw a topographical map. This is your WORLD. On the map you'll write a detailed description of that land: the possible dangers, wonderful delights and amazing creatures that may be encountered on the journey through your World. Imagine the stories!

Marty Chan

The Game is Afoot – Bring your magnifying glasses and detective caps to this fun-filled and fast-paced session where you'll learn to unravel the mystery behind writing mysteries. With a mix of writing games and improv demonstrations, author Marty Chan reveals the secrets behind crafting a page-turner story.

Leonora Macy & Robyn Rae

Writing Through Imagined Experiences – Explore fun ways to use language. Beginning with 'play', we'll use drama techniques and role play to help you create character and to write-in-role. Develop rich characterization to inspire your rich and imaginative writing.

Important info for campers

- Bring indoor and outdoor shoes
- Dress for the weather as campers go outside for breaks and lunch
- Bring a bagged lunch
- Pencils and scribblers will be provided
- Pre- and post-care campers will participate in some games; however, should also bring a book or writing project to work on.
